

How Do You Keep Your Sex Toys Clean?

In order to make your sex life more perfect, you may try a lot of different sex positions. You may also try to have it in different locations. One of things you may also do is to use some sex toys. Yes playing with sex toys is certainly full of fun. However, these toys can also be dirty after being used. As a result, you should learn the ways to keep your sex toys clean. You may know that the first thing you have to do in order to keep your toys clean is to use a condom when you are playing with the toy. No matter it is a dildo, a vibrator, or a love doll, you should use a condom when you are using it. This will certainly help you to keep your sex toys clean. You will also find that you can clean the toys a lot easier if you use a condom. As a matter of fact, using a condom is a must if you have the habit of sharing sex toys with the others. If you are going to apply some lubricants on the sex toys when you are playing with it, it is advised that you should use water based lube. Again, this is mainly because the lube can dry itself. When you are trying to clean the toys, you can just clean them with water. You can easily clean the water based lubricants with water. Remember, you should take the batteries away before you clean the toys. The toys can be damaged if the batteries get wet. A worse case is that the batteries may get wet and you still do not notice it. In this case it is highly probable that the toys will be damaged. You should also pay extra attention to the metallic parts when you are cleaning the toys. You do not want to make your toys become rusty right? You need to make sure that the metallic parts will not get wet. If the parts get wet, you need to rub it with a dry towel. This will help to make sure that these parts will not become rusty. There are people who complain that the life of a sex toy is too short. However, I can tell you that you can keep using your toys for a long time if you can clean your toys well. So, you should try to take care of your toys!
